

2022 Police Officer of the Year, Detective John Voorhis

Detective John Voorhis is a tenured and well-respected investigator. He has been the Criminal Intelligence Detective for the past 5 years and is often involved in complex and sensitive investigations. He is passionate about his profession and has gone to great lengths to develop the skills needed to be an exceptional detective. For example, Detective Voorhis has become an expert in electronic data collection. He is regularly relied upon to locate, retrieve, and interpret electronic data for his investigations and investigations being conducted by other detectives. At a time when technology has permeated so many facets of life, his work has been instrumental to solving and prosecuting numerous cases.

In addition to his Criminal Intelligence responsibilities, Detective Voorhis is a member of the Los Angeles Regional Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force. He has been involved in hundreds of investigations related to online exploitation of children and has protected countless youths as a result. Detective Voorhis is highly regarded by the ICAC Task Force members for his tenacity, skillset, and willingness to help other investigators with their investigations.

Detective Voorhis is an outstanding representative of the Police Department. He embodies the department's core values of Respect, Integrity, and Excellence, and serves as a role model and mentor to other employees. For all these reasons and more, Detective Voorhis has earned the title of Officer of the Year.
